Charges Truman Is Prisoner of Military Clique

Poland Says He Was Stopped When He Was Going to Send Envoy to Moscow

Paris, Oct. 16 (AP)—Poland charged today President Truman "is a prisoner of a military clique, and that when he wanted to send an envoy to Moscow he was stopped."

The assertion was made by Julius Katz-Suchy of Poland in the disarmament subcommittee of the United Nations Assembly.

Katz-Suchy apparently was referring to the recent plan of Mr. Truman to send Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow to explain the U. S. position on atomic energy to Generalissimo Stalin.

Secretary of State Marshall vetoed the plan and Vinson did not make the trip. Marshall is former chief of staff of the U. S. Army.

Katz-Suchy, speaking at times angrily, declared he was answering statements made yesterday by U. S. Delegate Frederick Osborn.

The chairman of U. S. House of Representatives, twice admonished him to keep to the subject of disarmament.

Yakov Malik of the Soviet Union then raised a point of order declaring Katz-Suchy should be permitted to take up the same questions raised by Osborn.

Osborn smiling slightly, agreed. "We think the discussion is proper," he said.

Katz-Suchy said Osborn raised the question of the Iron Curtain. "What has the question of the Iron Curtain got to do with disarmament?" the Pole continued.

Hodges said he thought Osborn's talk yesterday at times seemed to be from the subject matter under discussion, disarmament. He added he thought it would be more appropriate for Malik to answer the U. S. rather than the representative of Poland.

Katz-Suchy said he would prefer to talk only of the disarmament problem before the committee. But since the United States delegation raised certain questions, he would reply with questions.

"But we won't enter the question of the witch-hunt campaign in the United States or the great rearmament of the U. S. or ask what the intention of the U. S.," he said.

"What are the peaceful purposes of the Operations Snowdrop and Yukon? Why train paratroops in the Arctic? Where would they be dropped in a defensive manner in the case of an invasion?" he continued.

Osborn's slightly amused expression was unchanged as Katz-Suchy declared, "I have some doubts if he (Osborn) can answer the question of who is reactionary and who is expansionist."

"What about the United States bases in Greenland," asked Katz-Suchy. "What of the hundreds of Pacific Islands, the bases in North Africa, the economic penetration in Europe?"

Katz-Suchy said the United States had raised the question of a fifth column. The U. S., he said, had a fifth column.

"The radio fomenting unrest in all of Europe," he said, and asked: "Does it interfere in the affairs of European States?"

Katz-Suchy called upon the

City Pays Tribute To Sergeant Dietz World War 2 Hero

Body of Congressional Medal of Honor Winner Arrived Here Friday; Memorial Service to Be At Auditorium Sunday

The body of Staff Sergeant Robert H. Dietz returned to Kingston Friday afternoon and is now lying in state in the municipal auditorium.

More than 1,000 persons were present at the West Shore railroad station and along Broadway to pay tribute to this city's only Congressional Medal of Honor holder as the 2:25 p. m. train arrived bearing the flag-draped case containing the hero's body.

Staff Sgt. Dietz, son of Herman O. Dietz and the late Mrs. Dietz of 37 Abbey street, was killed in action March 29, 1945, after single-handedly opening the road for the capture of Kirchain, Germany, for which act he was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. He is one of 192 U. S. Army men to earn this highest honor during World War 2.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock a public memorial service will be held at the auditorium in his honor.

One change in the announced schedule for the services will be made, according to James M. Krom, chairman. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, will conduct the committal service at Wiltwyck Cemetery instead of the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier. The Rev. Mr. Pontier, however, will be one of the presiding clergymen at the solemn services at the auditorium. He is the pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, of one of Sgt. Dietz was a member.

The eulogy will be delivered by Major General Robert Hasbrouck, retired, former commander of the 7th Armored Division, of which Sgt. Dietz was a member. Clarence L. Durner, principal of Kingsburg, will officiate.

Esopus Legion Post Home Dedication Sunday, Oct. 31

The Rev. Arthur J. F. Quinn, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, the Bronx, and American Legion, Department of New York Chapter in 1946, will be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies of Town of Esopus, No. 1298 Legion home, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, October 31.

There was a great amount of sentiment in the invitation of the Post to Father Quinn to participate in the dedication ceremonies. It was Father Quinn, representing the State Department Commander, who on the evening of September 17, 1946, formally presented the Post with its charter at a charter night party at the Penguin in Port Ewen. At that time, Father Quinn gave a most eloquent talk to the assembled Esopus Legionnaires and guests and one of his remarks, embodied his conviction that Town of Esopus Post would go a long ways in Legion circles. He said at that time, that he hoped they would set their goal for a home of some kind, even if it were a one-room affair in the woods somewhere. Father Quinn has now been invited and accepted the invitation to assist in the dedication of that many observers believe to be one of the finest Legion homes anywhere.

The topic of the dedication ceremonies was the principal one at the meeting of the Post held at the home Tuesday evening. The plans of the committee were outlined by the chairman of the committee, Edgar M. Maurer. Included in the plans is an open house all day. All organizations of the Town of Esopus as well as all Legionnaires of Ulster county are to be invited to come and inspect the home.

The meeting was well attended and many matters of interest to the Post members were discussed. Commander John A. Henry presided and received the reports of the various committees, which have been working to get the home in shape for the dedication. House Committee Chairman Reuben Gullian outlined what had been done so far and what was expected to be done. The oil burner has been received

Eisenhower Is Against Taking Federal Funds

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says he wants no federal funds for higher education if there is "one single iota" of federal control attached.

And the government has no right to allocate tax money without supervising its use, Eisenhower asserted in a speech here last night.

The new president of Columbia University was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree at the 82nd annual convocation of the regents of the university of the state of New York.

He said he wished to make it clear "where an old soldier stands" on the question of federal aid to education.

"The federal government has no right," he said, "to take tax money out of our pockets, and then give it back to us without some form of supervision."

"Therefore, I say they cannot give federal money for support of higher education."

"I will have no federal money in higher education so long as there is one single iota of federal control coming with it."

Eisenhower, supreme commander of the allied armies in Europe during World War 2, was inaugurated as president of Columbia last Tuesday.

He was among seven new college presidents introduced formally to the regents.

His academic hood, he commented, "symbolizes my membership in that body of educators who must win the battle against war, ignorance, prejudice and the resulting world chaos."

W.C.T.U. Asks Ban on Liquor at Camps

Oneonta, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union of New York wants legislation "to keep all alcoholic liquors, including beer, from all military and training camps."

A letter asking Secretary of Defense Forrestal to secure such legislation was approved last night at the organization's 75th annual convention.

"Our sons are being enrolled for military service," the letter said. "We want to give them the best moral, physical and spiritual protection possible and this can best be done when alcoholic liquors are prohibited."

Rhineland, Ruhr Elections

Duesseldorf, Germany, Oct. 16 (AP)—Voters in thousands of small communities in the Rhineland and Ruhr will elect local government representatives tomorrow. In the last communal elections in 1946 percentage votes for parties were: Christian Democrats 38.5, Social Democrats 36.5, Communists 7.7, Free Democrats 5.5 and Centrum (rightist) 4.6. Similar elections will be held in Schleswig-Holstein on October 24 and in Lower Saxony next month.

Cross Burned

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—A 12-foot cross was burned last night on a hillside north of here. "It looked like a Ku Klux Klan cross," Sheriff Arlington E. Thatcher said. The fire blazed 45 minutes in a Broome county farm pasture at Himmer's corner, Nimmonsburg, firemen extinguished the flames.

Charge Vishinsky Pushed 'Neutrals' To Western Side

Spokesmen for West Say He Impugned Their Motives and Pulled 'Boner'

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

Paris, Oct. 16 (AP)—Western power officials said today Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky had alienated the Security Council "neutrals" by challenging their motives in attempting to mediate the Berlin problem.

A French delegate said Vishinsky had pulled a "boner." Other western spokesmen said he had pushed the "neutrals" over to their side by charging a trap was being baited for Russia.

Vishinsky refused to answer questions on the Berlin blockade and the four-power Moscow negotiations, repeating the Russian argument that the Security Council had no business discussing Berlin.

"The questions were put to all four parties to the Berlin dispute by the Security Council during the Berlin debate," the U. S., Britain and France promised their answers at next Tuesday's Council session.

The "neutrals" meanwhile decided to meet again today to try to work out a possible solution to the impasse.

The six "neutrals," led by Yugoslavia, have been trying to find a way out of the impasse since Oct. 6, but after yesterday's meeting the four powers were as far apart as ever.

Vishinsky broke his silence at the meeting only to accuse the would-be mediators of trying to trap Russia into taking part in the debate. "It is naive to believe the Soviet Union will swallow this bait," he said.

In a strongly worded reply, Brumaglia said, "I therefore most firmly and categorically deny that in any of our minds was there any question of double dealing."

Uphold Papanek

At a morning meeting today, a plenary session of the assembly turned down Soviet efforts to fire Dr. Jan Papanek, anti-Communist former Czechoslovak delegate to the U.N., from two U.N. committees.

A Polish motion to get rid of Papanek was voted down, with only the six Slav states recorded in favor of it.

Papanek's term on the Committee on Contributions expires at the end of next year. His term on the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions lasts until the end of 1950.

Poland and White Russia argued that Papanek no longer has the confidence of his government but the United States and Britain held that members of the committees were elected as individuals and nomination by their countries was "only incidental."

"The Palestine question, which was taken up by the assembly's Publicity Committee yesterday, was edged out of the picture by a report from the Subcommittee on Atomic Energy which will be continued on Page Ten

Atom Plane Ready For Drawing Boards

Baltimore, Oct. 16 (AP)—An Oak Ridge scientist says the atom-powered airplane has passed the theory stage and is now ready for the engineers' drawing boards.

Such a plane might have a practically unlimited flying range.

Not long ago a City College of New York professor said atomic airplanes would be flying around within seven years—the first vehicles of any kind to be propelled by nuclear energy. Now David M. Poole has told the Baltimore Society of Automotive Engineers that a scheme has already been worked out for a mobile atomic pile.

That means Uncle Sam is all set to begin designing a plane that might fly to any corner of the globe and back without refueling. The problems ahead are to devise the engine, body, and controls, and to build a shield to protect the crew from radiation.

Poole, who represents the Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation, Hagerstown, Md., at the government's Oak Ridge (Tenn.) atom plant, is head of the thermodynamics section of an Oak Ridge group working on nuclear-propelled aircraft.

He explained that our present aircraft—even the newest types, are limited by the very heavy loads of gasoline required to carry them long distances.

However atomic fuel is as powerful as two million times its weight in gasoline.

Dr. Morris Kolodney of the City College of New York has estimated that one pound of uranium could drive a B-29 around the world six times.

Dr. Kolodney, a permanent consultant to the Oak Ridge nuclear-propelled aircraft group, says there ought to be an aviation-type atomic engine on a test stand in five years, and a plane in the air two years after that.

Poole says the plane will be driven by a secret device called a "nuclear rocket," which will utilize heat generated in the atomic pile.

Clashes Came As the U. N. Met in Paris to Ponder Means for Peace

Many Deaths

Heavy Casualties Are Reported in Friday's Fighting

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

Tel Aviv, Israel, Oct. 16 (AP)—Jews and Egyptians hammered each other in southern Palestine today with land and air attacks that threatened to shatter the Holy Land truce.

Casualties from yesterday's fighting are reported to be heavy. The clashes came as the United Nations met in Paris to ponder means of bringing lasting peace to Palestine.

Whether the new violence—gravest in three months—constitutes a mere truce fracture or resumption of full scale war, may be decided on the outcome of military action in the next 12 hours.

Fighting broke out in the Negev where Jews and Egyptians have been scowling at each other since the truce began.

The trouble apparently started when the Jews chipped the opening of the U.N. Palestine debate to try and rush a daylight convoy to 23 Jewish settlements in the southern desert, 80 miles south of Tel Aviv.

The Egyptians who overlook the road along the entire route pounced on the convoy and turned it back. Two trucks in the 16-vehicle group were burned and several persons killed.

Anonymous U.N. observers said the Jews apparently sent a "sitting duck" convoy under Egyptian guns as a provocative gesture to pave the way for last night's Israeli air force strike-back.

The terse Israeli announcement of Jewish bombing of Egyptian bases in the south said "following today's Egyptian land and air attacks in the Negev, the Israeli air force took action against Egyptian bases. Ground clashes also flared up in various parts of the area."

Following yesterday's emergency blackout broadcast, all Israeli and Jewish Jerusalem went to bed in the south said "following today's Egyptian land and air attacks in the Negev, the Israeli air force took action against Egyptian bases. Ground clashes also flared up in various parts of the area."

Other government leaders canceled social engagements which had been made for the eve of the Jewish Sabbath.

Jerusalem dispatch said many shops and offices were closed as Jewish authorities began another comb out of manpower for what was described as "essential defense works."

The convoy attack occurred in an area which was bitterly contested throughout the Palestine conflict. The trucks moved down a road that the Egyptians repeatedly have refused to acknowledge as a truce-time supply route.

The Jews also reported that six Egyptian Spitfires strafed and bombed several inter-settlement supply convoys inside the Negev area, destroying supply trucks and inflating casualties.

(Jerusalem had another case of jittery today when mortar, machine gun and rifle fire echoed in the city. No casualties were reported.)

(Arab forces advanced toward Israeli positions on Mount Zion outside the southern part of the old city walls, while Arab sappers set off blasts near Jewish held lines, an Israeli source said. He said the attack was repulsed.)

Truman and Dewey Are Homeward Bound for Rests

Vigorous Reserve Training Program

President Directs the Defense Department to Act at Once

Clarkburg, W. Va., Oct. 16 (AP)—President Truman announced today he has directed the Defense Department to "organize all military reserve units required for the national security."

The presidential orders, requiring action "without delay," called for establishment of "vigorous and progressive reserve training programs."

It was directed to Defense Secretary Forrestal and the heads of the Armed Service Departments under him.

The President told Forrestal to assign "an active, capable, high-ranking officer" to head the reserve program in each department of the national defense establishment.

Mr. Truman signed an executive order aboard his Washington-bound campaign train shortly before midnight, to carry out the program.

It says the national security requires that "reserve components of appropriate strength and maximum effectiveness exist throughout the nation."

In a statement, Mr. Truman said the organized reserve corps of the army and air force have

New York Governor Takes Issue With Hull Over Foreign Policy Origination

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey were homeward bound today for brief rests before launching new vote drives in their White House contest.

Mr. Truman was due in Washington late this afternoon after a midwest tour that boasts his campaign log to over 15,000 miles. About 7,000 miles more lie ahead, starting Monday with a plane trip to the American Legion Convention in Miami.

Dewey planned to park his Republican presidential caravan in his mother's yard in Oswego, Mich., for a week-end visit. He will return to Albany Monday.

Both candidates continued political counter-punching yesterday.

The President said the "Republican firemen" were too busy "playing political checkers" to put out the inflationary blaze. Dewey charged that the Democrats made "trades with the forces of aggression."

The New York governor also took issue with former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who said Dewey was "incorrect" in claiming to have originated this nation's bipartisan foreign policy.

Mr. Truman sounded his fire alarm in Indianapolis after a day-long swing across the Hoosier state.

"Republican firemen," he said,

French Now Take Action On Its Money Troubles

By ROBERT C. WILSON

Paris, Oct. 16 (AP)—The French government, its labor troubles slightly on the wane, moved today to take action against its money troubles.

Some kind of change in the value of the franc is expected to be discussed today and tomorrow between top financial leaders of western Europe.

France's labor unrest seemed likely to simmer out as the Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.) voted almost unanimously against calling a general strike.

The C.G.T. pledged itself to seek the destruction of the European Recovery program and voted for cooperation with Russia and continued pressure for Communist participation in the French government.

Secretary-General Benoit Franchon praised the results he said had been achieved by the present policy of partial strikes. The C.G.T. convention called for a minimum monthly wage of 15,000 francs (about $50).

There was no sign of a break in the 13-day coal walkout. The Communist-led union reacted to a government charge that the mines are suffering from neglect by ordering strikers to abandon all care of mines for 24 hours Monday.

The finance ministers of Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg have a formal meeting scheduled tomorrow. The meeting is within the framework of the Western European Federation.

But British Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps doubtless will discuss with French leaders at least informally what is reliably reported to be France's desire for a realignment of the franc to other currencies.

Until the plan is official, it is uncertain whether the reported French plan amounts to devaluation.

Informed French and foreign sources long have talked how- ever, of the French desire to stimulate trade by changing the

THE MANCHESTER

Small House Designed To Use All Space

Attractive Cape Cod Style Cottage Has Four Rooms and Bath on First Floor and Second Floor Area for Bedrooms

A snug little house, "just big enough," with every inch of space utilized, but trim and attractive on the outside, is often desired but too seldom found.

The "Home of the Week" Plan Service today offers "The Manchester," a small house which meets all these requirements.

Only 24x30 feet in size, it has four rooms and bath on the first floor with a second floor that can be partitioned off into bedrooms at any time, and the outside is gracious and dignified.

Has Vestibule Ell

Centered on the front is a vestibule ell, that little addition which is now finding so much favor among small house builders because it provides for a roomy coat closet without taking valuable inside space. Another advantage is the protection against the weather it gives the living room when the front door is open.

The entrance ell on "The Manchester," almost classic in design, delicate and well-proportioned, is a feature on the front of the house, projecting about three feet and allowing for shrubbery to be banked up at each side of it. The living room window at the left and dining room window at the right are evenly spaced at each side, and the porch at the end seems to balance the outside chimney at the living room.

The entrance ell on "The Manchester," almost classic in design, delicate and well-proportioned, is a feature on the front of the house, projecting about three feet and allowing for shrubbery to be banked up at each side of it.

This Cape Cod type house of snowy white clapboards, with chimney painted white and topped with a colored band to match the shutters, has a strong sturdy look, with stone steps and foundation under the porch. Shingles could be used in place of clapboards although the latter are recommended. A full cement basement is under the house, with laundry space under the kitchen and a heater room under the living room.

A long shed dormer at the back gives light and height to the second floor.

This little house is simply planned. Travel through it is easy and rooms are all of ample size and well ventilated. The living room has a long unbroken wall space for furniture and three windows, two flanking the fireplace. The fireplace end lends itself to that very attractive treatment of building bookshelves and cupboards to the ceiling around the windows, making one whole wall of wood.

The nearly square dining room also has three windows and is entered from the living room through a wide trimmed opening that gives an impression of space to both rooms.

Kitchen Arrangement

Under the double windows, that might look out to the garden side of the porch, is the working space of the kitchen, the sink and long counter space with cupboards above. The refrigerator fits neatly in the space between the counter and the door to the dining room. Three steps lead down to the rear entry from the kitchen door and as the wall juts back beside them to the main stair partition it makes a convenient location for the range and extra cupboards.

A long inside hall leads from the kitchen to the bedroom. The living room opens off at the left and the second floor stairway and the bath are at the right. The layout of the bathroom is L-shaped and the tub is in a niche formed by the bedroom closet at one side. The door from the hall swings into the bath room against the wall sacrificing no room from the bath itself.

Cross ventilation, good wall space for furniture and a big closet are the assets of the bedroom.

Plans Are Available

Complete plans for "The Manchester," the "Home of the Week" or any other design of this series, may be obtained at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor. Enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Restore Beauty To House-Worn Wood Surfaces

Blemishes, scratches, bumps and stains, which occur in the best of families, need not be permitted to ruin the beauty of highly finished woodwork in furniture and paneling. There are some home "remedies" that can be used effectively to remove the marks of time and everyday use.

If alcohol is spilled, rub the mark quickly with the finger tip to smooth away the roughness, and apply lemon or olive oil. This applies also to spilled perfume.

For Removal of Ink

If ink is spilled, wash the spot with soap and water, and, in the case of black ink, give a second washing with water to which salt, lemon juice, or vinegar has been added.

For red ink stains, use vinegar in the second wash water, rinse thoroughly, and polish.

For dark stains, dip a cork in oxalic acid, rub the spot, rinse, dry immediately, and polish.

For just dirt or finger marks on painted wood, use equal parts of milk, water and kerosene, or vinegar in water.

Scratches on furniture, if not too deep, may be touched with ordinary iodine and then polished. A good polish may be made by mixing equal parts of linseed oil, turpentine and white vinegar.

Treatment for Worn Floor

For a worn floor, touch up with shellac, and give a new coating of wax. If the floor is hardwood, a tablespoon of vinegar and one of furniture polish, in water, will give a clear finish and keep down dust.

If the floors are oiled, turpentine will take off most spots. If turpentine is not available kerosene will do. If a grease mark is made on the floor, cover the spot with Fuller's earth. Leave for at least one day and then remove. If the spot has not been entirely absorbed apply again. This should remove the stain.

To Make Screws Hold

To make screws hold in thin or cracked plaster, make a hole in the wall almost as deep as the screw; then, after putting the screw in, remove it and fill the hole with steel wool. The steel wool will help support the screw and protect the plaster.

Building Terms Defined by FHA

A knowledge of real estate terminology is important to the prospective home buyer.

The following definitions drawn up by the Federal Housing Administration may prove useful in this respect:

A detached building is a building in which no exterior walls are common to any other building.

A semi-detached building is one of two adjoining buildings standing independently of others and having a common party wall.

A row house is one of four or more buildings in which two walls are common to adjoining buildings.

An end row house is one which is located at the end of a group of four or more row houses and may differ in plan, window arrangement, and extent of exterior walls, from the other houses in the group by virtue of its location. Where only three houses occur in a row, separate classifications are set up for the end houses and for the centre house.

Heater Fits in Closet

A new house heating plant has just been developed that fits in a closet. The entire heating unit occupies only about 30 by 45 inches of floor space. Given a chimney and the proper sized closet, this pocket-size system is all set to flood the average five-room house with winter heat.

Woodrow Wilson instituted the first formal and regular White House press conferences.

Treat Windows To Curb Drafts

Frame Should Form a Weatherproof Joint With Framework

Chilling drafts can be prevented in new homes and they can be corrected in older homes. Here are three spots to watch:

See that the window frame forms a weatherproof joint with the rough framework. This may be done by caulking around the frame, use of waterproof paper, or by using what builders call wide blind stop construction.

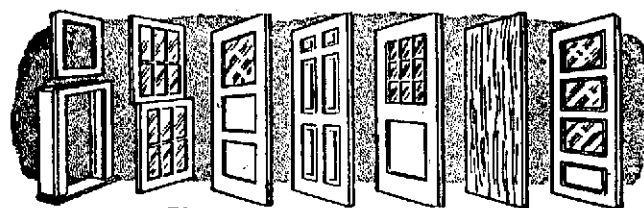

See that sash are fitted carefully to the window frame. This not only cuts down cold air infiltration but makes weatherstripping more efficient.

Drafts may result also through the cooling of warm air coming in contact with cold panes of glass, which causes the cooled air to drop to the floor. This can be largely overcome by the use of

EXCELSIORS Solicits YOUR VOTE ON ELECTION DAY

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it is with pleasure that we the officers and members of Excelsior Hose Company, No. 4, of the city of Kingston, New York, having worked side by side with the officers and members of the Paid Fire Department since its inception, dating back over a period of forty years, and knowing how sincere and faithful they have fulfilled their tasks, feel it not only our duty but an obligation to appeal to the citizens of Kingston, irrespective of politics, to vote for PROPOSITION A on election day, which provides for an increase in wages for the Paid Firemen of our city.

These firemen cannot play politics, or solicit your vote like a candidate for office because they have a job to perform at all times. This they do and have always done without fear or favor. Their lives are given over to protecting and saving you, your family and your property. They are the fearless men who wait and watch night and day; summer and winter so that all may be protected from that terrible and devastating demon that destroys everything before it — Fire!

You may hear it said or perhaps you have said that a fireman's life is an easy life, but if you will kindly meditate on his job, you will discover that the life of a fireman is a life of uncertainty—because:

1. When not on duty, he is constantly on call for you.
2. When his day is over, he must report where he may be reached by phone in case of a serious fire.
3. When he says goodbye to mother, wife or sister, a fire that day or night may be his last.
4. When driving to the fire or at the scene of the fire, his life is in danger always; this is his duty and his work.
5. When making an inspection of your factory, plant or store, he is protecting you and your employees. Even though he might appear quite dressed up, he is giving the particular assignment a thorough check.
6. When in the theatre, auditorium or dance hall, he is ever on the alert to see that the "No Smoking" rule is invoked both for your protection and enjoyment. It is not an evening of pleasure for him.
7. When at the firehouse, he is found cleaning and polishing the fire truck and its accessories so that everything is ready for immediate use.
8. When Christmas comes, it is the firemen who repair and repaint discarded toys so that many underprivileged children may enjoy a Merry Christmas. This is one of their favorite jobs.
9. When you look over the roster, the names give you only the highest type of men. All of them are courageous, courteous, sincere and honest—a body of men we all are certainly proud of.
10. When you pay your fire insurance you will find that your rate is moderate; all because your firemen are capable, active and alert. This keeps fire losses down to a minimum. This is another feature which proves their worth.
11. When we consider that Paid Firemen in Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Middletown, our sister cities, receive a larger salary than in Kingston, we should blush with shame. On Election Day this can be corrected by voting PROPOSITION A.

Taking this all into consideration, we the citizens of Kingston, not alone owe an obligation to ourselves to maintain at all times an efficient Fire Department, but also to Fire Chief Joseph Murphy, considered by city officials and firemen all over the state, as one of the best and outstanding fire officials, to surround himself with firemen that can and will be a credit to us all. This can only be accomplished by giving his department an overwhelming majority on PROPOSITION A at the polls on Tuesday, November 2nd, 1948.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: that we humbly ask the help of all the citizens of Kingston for our fellow firemen on Election Day, and further ask them to solicit votes for PROPOSITION A. They will be helping the "best firemen in the state" to a livable wage which they are certainly entitled to.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: that when you vote—do not let the excitement of the Presidential Year upset you. Remember vote PROPOSITION A on the top of the voting machine first; then proceed with the rest of your voting.

Respectfully submitted,

Good Pheasant Hunting Prospects Seen

Except for the dryness which may result in closing of the woods to hunters and the fact that the leaves have not fallen in any quantity, the small game season opening Monday, Oct. 18, at noon, will be the best in several years. A survey of sportsmen in the Ulster-Orange-Sullivan area disclosed today.

Sportsmen are particularly optimistic over the pheasant situation.

For the first time in eight years these birds are reported in fair quantities in Ulster, Orange and southern Sullivan counties. A Middletown hunter, Kenneth Piggot, reported putting up flock of eight or nine birds while running his dogs—something that has not happened in some years. The birds seem to be on the upswing of a cycle.

The pheasant season in Orange and Ulster counties opens at noon Monday and runs through the 23rd. In Sullivan the season is limited to two days—Oct. 22 and 23—from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Friday and from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday.

Bag limits are one cock bird each day for Orange and Ulster with three for the open season and one each day for Sullivan.

Partridges Plentiful
Partridges are reported in somewhat larger numbers than a year ago, although sportsmen point out that because of heavy foliage in the woods, it is difficult to gauge their numbers. One report from Delaware county was to the effect that last spring's hatch was good and the birds summered well.

Hours for hunting woodcock are the same as for grouse.

The season on these migratory birds is from Oct. 18 to Nov. 9. Bag limit is four per day.

Sportsmen report that because of warm weather in south-east Canada, the southward movement of these birds has not yet reached the Catskill area. Some birds have been seen but they are described as "native" birds.

Rabbits Reported Scarce
Rabbits seem to strike the only pessimistic note in the small game situation. In some sections they are reported nearly extinct while in other areas they are reported "spotty". The cottontail season opens at noon Monday and runs until January 31.

Squirrels are reported in greater quantities than at any time since the great migration eight or nine years ago. The season is from the third Monday in October until the third Monday in November.

Prognostications for the big game season opening November 15 are that deer are in at least equal numbers as last year—many reports are that there are more—and that bear are in greater numbers than last season.

Stunned by the impact of their opponent's first thrust, the ponderous Kingston High School juggernaut recoiled slowly and then struck like a maddened cobra to crush Port Jervis High, 27-0, last night before 2,100 spectators at the tri-state city.

The brilliant victory gave Coach Bill Burke's Maroons a commanding start in their drive for a second DUSO football championship in three years and ran their seasonal point total to an amazing 103 points for three games. And the opposition has contrived only seven points—and these tainted to be sure.

The victory was Kingston's second straight in the DUSO conference, and fourth in a row, counting last year's finale against Newburgh.

Eight new faces will be featured in the trio of three-round preliminaries and the opening live. A highly touted regional prospect, Mickey Russo, Highland welterweight, is scheduled in the five-round semi-final.

Standout in the smaller prelims in George Bennett, 155-pound Utica layo artist. He is scheduled against Ernie Bleimmeister of the Berkshire School at Canaan, N. Y.

Field Beat Lacelle

Major interest, of course, is centered on the brawl between Roy Field, who defeated Ronnie Lacelle in Ottawa about three months ago and Thompson, the Buffalo Black Phantom who dropped a split decision to the Canadian hulk on the last card.

The complete card:

Katrine Gun Club Plans Ladies' Day At Club Grounds

The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club will observe "Ladies' Day" Sunday at the club grounds at 2 p. m. The ladies' auxiliary has completed plans for the occasion and has arranged several prizes.

All male members of the club are requested to bring their wives and friends to help insure success of the affair. The public is also invited.

Joy Retains Title

According to a report that nonchance must have been lost in the slugging, Chester Joy retained his Ulster County sycet championship last Sunday with a score of 41 out of 50 in competition against some of the best marksmen in the county.

Rutimurup was Joe Zeeh with 39. Les Hotelling broke 37 targets while Bruce Wilson, a potential threat to Joy, slumped to 30.

Ray Camnitz had 37 out of 50 to capture the club trap championship.

Oppose Arrow Season

At its regular meeting Tuesday, the club passed a resolution opposing the new bow and arrow deer hunting season which is now in progress.

The pheasant committee reported that 160 full grown birds have been released. The club grounds will be closed to everyone during the state pheasant season, which starts on October 18 and closes on October 23.

The first pheasant day on the Katrine Club game preserve is set for Sunday, October 24, and 50 additional birds will be released for that day. An additional 50 also will be released on Sunday, October 31.

The rabbit committee announced the purchase of 96 rabbits to be released on the club grounds during November. Hunting of rabbits is prohibited on the grounds until November 20.

Among the prizes to be awarded by the Entertainment Committee at Sunday's affair are a 12-gauge pump gun, wool sport coat, two dozen trout flies, a case of beer and other valuable articles.

Sala Wins Over Jones

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Lee Sala squinted through his partially closed left eye today and found his string of 43 professional boxing victories unbroken. But his kayo reputation was slightly tarnished. The young Donora, Pa. puncher was given a bad time last night by Reuben Jones of Norfolk, Va., in the main event at the St. Nicholas Arena. Sala staggered through on top, but it was a split decision.

He had won 32 fights by knockouts. He couldn't even floor Jones.

"I knew what I wanted to do," Sala reflected. "But I couldn't do it."

His manager, Bunny Buntag, observed: "That fellow's a little too big, too strong." Jones weighed 164½; Sala 160½.

Jones offered this criticism: "He's going to be a good fighter. He's got a good hook, but it's too wide."

A good showing last night probably would have meant a choice date in Madison Square Garden for Sala. But after the fight Harry Markson of the 20th Century Sporting Club remarked: "He looks promising, but he's not ready for the Garden right now."

28,000 at Point

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—A sellout crowd of some 28,000 was expected to jam Michie Stadium today to see Army and Harvard meet for the 20th time in a football rivalry dating back to 1895. Army goes into the game as favorite, with three victories and no defeats on its 1948 record. Harvard has played two games, defeating Columbia and losing to Cornell.

Garay Receives Fumble

Kingston completed its scoring with a sustained 59-yard jaunt late in the fourth quarter after alert Mort Gazlay, a tremendous lineman last night, recovered a fumble on the Kingston 41. Buzz gained five yards at center. It seemed that every time you looked up, Rienzo was slicing off five yards.

Kitsos was held for no gain before Dee Titus passed 15 yards to Joe Albany who grabbed the ball surrounded by three Port players. Two smacks by Kitsos on by Rienzo, Titus to Scheffel on a daring 4th down maneuver and Kingston had first down on the Port 25.

Keyes Scores

Enter Harvey Keyes, the speedy Negro youth. Keating hit Port's left end for five yards then Keyes took over. First he sneaked through a beautiful hole up to the Port 9. And before Port had a chance to recover, he danced through for a touchdown on the next play. He missed the plunge for extra point, but Rienzo had added two and Kitsos one and it was 27-0 Kingston.

Statistically speaking, Kingston rolled up 11 first downs to 6 for Port and had 190-yards rushing to 90 for Port (most of which came in that first drive).

The tri-staters tried 18 passes with Ed Polanski rifling long and short ones all over the field but only five found their mark for 74 yards. The Maroon completed 4 out of 5 but was content to rely on its running game. It was more than adequate.

Port Opens Fast

That first Port drive. Pagano returned Rienzo's kick to the 34. Ray Nicolette, the Port speedster, picked up a yard and Marando passed to Pinkala to the Kingston 48. Pagano circled left end to the 41 on a play in which Joe Albany was kayoed but recovered quickly.

Nicolette then uncorked a sensational 30-yard sprint around his right end to the Kingston 11. Marando blasted to the 4 but here Kingston held and three plays later Pagano was smeared by Albany on the same yard stripe.

This man Marando made 50 per cent of the Port kick. Without him the Porters would have been a sorry spectacle indeed.

Did you ever remember a World Series that was forgotten so swiftly and so completely as the late, lamented classic between the Indians and the Braves? . . . Just in case you don't know, there's a college football game scheduled in Kingston on Saturday, Nov. 13, between Gettysburg and St. Lawrence. . . . First college game in Kingston in 30 years. . . . Way back, nobody seems to know exactly when, St. Stephens is supposed to have played Manhattan in Kingston. . . . The Nov. 13 attraction should be a first rate battle. . . . The fine Italian hands of Clarence S. Rowland, Supt. of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw, Chester Baltz, Sr., are involved in the promotion. . . . Harry Markson's elevation to managing director of boxing at Madison Square Garden is a deserved promotion for a popular young native Kingstonian. . . . During his 11 years as Mike Jacobs' publicity man, Harry was extremely popular with the crabs, cynical working press and boxing writers who often held up drum beaters to scorn and ridicule. . . . Harry takes over at a critical stage in boxing at the Garden but we are sure he will deliver the goods. . . .

St. Stephen's Sam Speaking: Just to keep the record straight for Mulligan Mike's Mascot: St. Stephen's played Manhattan at the Fair Grounds in 1924; and in behalf of Dick Gruver, Freeman city editor, who played center for SS, let it be said that isn't 30 years ago. St. Stephen's won, 6-0. Gruver says his three high school age kids keep reminding him of his advanced age, to some of which, he admits. However, he objects to being made six years older than he really is, because that would make his missus that much older, too, and that's nothing to fool with.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Wonder what odds the bookies would lay on Rose Schatzel winning the Dist. 5 W.I.B.C. Individual Sweepstakes title for the third straight year? . . . The competition closes on December 5. . . . We like Casey Stengel as new manager of the Yankees. . . . In all fairness to Stengel it must be said he never had a fair shake as a National League manager. . . . During his three years in Brooklyn—1934-36—the Dodgers were in luck. During his six seasons in Boston, 1938-43, Bob Quinn barely managed to stay a step ahead of the sheriff. . . . Stengel specialized in laughing off bad major league baseball clubs. There is a suspicion he may further chance with the Yankees, who are growing old all at once. . . . There is nothing wrong with the ex-Bronx Bombers that a little pitching, catching, infelding and out-felding couldn't cure.

Casey Stengel gave us a jolt back in 1942 when he led the Boston Braves into Kingston for an exhibition against the Receptions. . . . It was at a time when the Negro baseball question was beginning to aizzle. . . . Among other things we asked Casey what he thought about admitting Negro players into the majors.

Up to that time it had been a pleasant, jovial interview with the usual folderol and cliches. Suddenly Casey's visage darkened and he snapped: "Young man, you asked the question, now you answer it."

We felt like running and hiding under the rug.

IF THE TOEPLATES FIT:

Any time Johnny Gooch, the old Pirate catcher of Bud Culliton's day, sits down for a brief buzzing session he's sure to recall some funny baseball incidents. The latest: When Chuck Dressen was playing third base at Cincinnati, he couldn't refrain from telling pitchers how to pitch. Finally, Ray Kolp, a comical cuss but a pretty

The subcommittee is expected to recommend that the five persons named by the Security Council should continue to seek an agreement in principle on regulation of atomic energy.

The Palestine question will not be taken up again until after the atomic energy report has been voted on.

In other committee meetings yesterday, Russia suffered a series of defeats.

The Legal Committee overcame strong Soviet objections and voted to protect "political groups" from mass slaughter in the proposed treaty on Genocide.

In the Social Committee, Britain accused Russia of maintaining a "monstrous slave system," charging "millions of slave laborers are kept like domestic animals, only for what they produce."

The Trusteeship Committee rejected a Soviet resolution which tended to force Colonial powers to supply political information about dependent territories.

Body of Kingston's War Hero Arrives

While a solemn crowd of spectators look on, the body of Staff Sergeant Robert H. Dietz, the "one-man army of Kirchain," is borne from the train at the West Shore station Friday afternoon to an awaiting vehicle for transportation to the municipal auditorium. The lower photo shows part of the line of marchers on Broadway near the Central Post Office led by the Port Ewen Drum Corps. Members ton High School, will deliver a short tribute.

At the close of the service in the auditorium, the body of Sgt. Dietz will move in cortege out Broadway to West O'Reilly street and to Willwyck Cemetery, where burial will take place. The public is requested not to enter the cemetery until the entire cortege has arrived. The committee asks that no one leave the cemetery after the close of the ceremonies until the family of Sgt. Dietz has left.

Body Arrived Friday

The body arrived here Friday aboard Railroad Car No. 5095 on the train pulled by Locomotive No. 5213. The train was in charge of Conductor W. E. Powers and Engineer J. Zabriskie.

Master Sergeant Hulton Wittington, Second Armored Division veteran and himself a Medal of Honor holder, was the escort. As the train pulled to a stop, a hush fell over the crowd. The case was brought out between rows of soldiers and members of various veterans organizations, all standing at the position of Present Arms.

The case was placed upon an army weapons carrier and the procession moved at half-step out Thomas street to Broadway.

The cortege consisted of a police escort; the drum section of the Port Ewen Drum Corps playing a slow beat on muffled drums; a detachment of troops from West Point; the color guard from Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Master Sergeant Wittington; the column alongside which marched the members from West Point and the honorary bearers from the 7th Army Division of which Sgt. Dietz was a member; Hermon O. Dietz, the father; Major General Robert Hasbrouck, U. S. A., retired, the former commander of the 7th Armored Division, and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk; members of Colonial Camp No. 75, United Spanish War Veterans; Joyce-Schick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Company M, Veterans Association; American Legion Post 150; Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League, and auxiliaries.

There was complete silence, save for the slow beat of the muffled drums, as the caisson proceeded down Broadway.

About opposite the Y.M.C.A. building, the units ahead of the caisson executed an open ranks, and reaching the auditorium, halted, turned and presented arms. The body proceeded through the middle to the head of the line and was taken inside the auditorium.

In a sense, Sgt. Dietz, this city's highest honored soldier, represented all those from Kingston who lost their lives in the recent war, and the sight of the funeral procession brought tears to the eyes of many of the persons who lined both sides of Broadway.

Honor Guard Maintained

A 24-hour honor guard was maintained over the body while it lay in state.

Those who served on the honor guard between 4 and 9 p. m. Friday, all members of the Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League, were Thomas J. Finnerty, in charge, and former marines Glick, Cousins, Howard, Al and Robert Nussbaum, Woolsey, Finnerty and Barlow.

From 9 p. m., until this morning the guard was provided by Kingston Post 150, American Legion. Those who served were Roy Ja-

Truman and . . .

"figured that maybe the fire of inflation would burn itself out, or that it was un-American to put water on the flames." He added:

"The Republican firemen not only failed to turn out the hook and ladder. They actually set fire to a couple of houses. They struck nearly a million Americans off the Social Security rolls."

"And their fire chief now says he is proud of them."

Evidently, Mr. Truman said, he offered "the Republican gentleman who wants to be president" by referring to depressions.

"You remember the old saying," he added, "don't talk about rope in the house of somebody who has been hanged."

The President chose Rep. Charles Halleck's home district to fire a blast at the House Republican leader, who is seeking reelection next month. He told North Judson, Ind., crowd that he likes "Charlie" personally but "politically I would like to put him out of business."

Dewey was expected to counter that attack in Halleck's home town of Rensselaer on his way to Michigan.

Replies to Hull

In St. Paul last night the Republican candidate issued a new attack on the administration's handling of foreign problems. At the same time he departed from his text to make a special reply to Hull's statement issued earlier in Washington.

The former secretary of state said that Dewey, in his Louisville speech last Tuesday, had made the "extravagant" and "incorrect" claim that he had originated the nation's bipartisan foreign policy in 1944.

Hull said that achievement was "the fruit of a joint and patriotic effort by members of both political parties."

Dewey replied that in the 1944 campaign he was confronted with the decision of whether to expose the "some of the blunders" of the Roosevelt administration in the foreign policy field and conduct of the war. This was an apparent reference to the fact that the G.O.P. candidate learned that this country had broken the code the Japanese used before Pearl Harbor.

Dewey said he sent a representative to Hull at that time to propose taking the question of foreign policy out of the political arena. He added that Hull had "accepted this cooperation in handling the whole matter out of partisanship."

"That is how I did it and I would do it again," he said.

In a speech earlier at Owatonna, Minn., Dewey charged the administration with "making, trading, behind its hand with the forces of aggression"—a reference which his aides said alluded to agreements President Truman made with the Russians at Potsdam in 1945.

In his St. Paul address Dewey said a "vital, realistic" foreign policy is essential for security and prosperity at home.

"If we are to have an America growing in abundance," he said, "we must have national policies which encourage the initiative, the imagination, the skill of our people so that every part of our economy can do its full productive job for all the people's benefit."

and is now being installed. The interior decorations have been fairly well completed, and all those attending the meeting were impressed with the progress made to date.

Past Commander Chester W. Barth, chairman of the Membership Committee, outlined plans for the enrollment of the members for the Legion year, which starts on October 20. It was voted to hold two meetings a month during the fall and winter, with the second meeting on the fourth Tuesday of each month. The latter meeting will be of a social nature, with entertainment and refreshments. Invitations are to be sent to all veterans of the Town of Esopus to join the post.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Edward P. Dwyer, a former major in the marine corps, showed three reels of official marine corps technicolor film of the storming and conquering of Iwo Jima and Okinawa Jima. These three films depict the actual battle scenes and are unquestionably the finest films of their type ever made. They are highlywood touch to the pictures for they show the stark realities of terrible war. There were several veterans present who had been in these battles and they, in particular, were greatly impressed. One veteran was fairly positive he saw himself in the lines before the assault on Sugar Loaf Hill, near Naha, Okinawa.

It was announced by Card Party Chairman Russell Maurer that the annual card party of the post would be held at the Town Auditorium on Tuesday, November 30. This annual card party has been one of the highlights of the post's social activities and for the past three years has been highly successful. Chairman Maurer has already started work on the plans for making this year's event another outstanding one.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.
